
Wrestling and Boxing

Wrestling and boxing have become firmly established at St. Lawrence. At the last two gatherings of the students in the gymnasium, bouts staged by members of the two squads have aided the program materially. But still the attempt on the part of Coach Clark and the students interested in these sports has not been considered seriously enough by the mass of the college. It is no easy thing to work in the gym day after day without any reward except the satisfaction which comes to the individual for work well done.

Coach Clark deserves much credit for his efforts to turn out a team which the college can be proud of, and we take this opportunity to thank him. Nor should we forget the small group of students who first projected the plan. They are the type of men who have brought St. Lawrence to its present standing,—pioneers who are not willing to wait for the other fellow to start something, but do it themselves.

A match has been scheduled with Alfred and every member of the squad is working faithfully so that a decent showing can be made. But more material is needed. There are many of us who are spending our afternoons in lazy leisure; let us support the new team as we should support every college activity.
